

Nightingale Challenge in the time of COVID-19

Johis Ortega, Ph.D., APRN, ACNP-BC, ENP-BC, FNP-BC, FAAN

UMSONHS Nightingale Challenge Leadership Development Program Curriculum

- Three-Part Lecture Series of Global Nurses Leaders
- In Person/Zoom Lectures
- Discussions on the role of nurses in leadership

Celebrating
2020: THE YEAR OF THE NURSE

Novel
Optimistic
World-changing

Nursing now
USA

FEBRUARY
28

Dr. Patricia Brennan
Director, National Library of Medicine
National Institutes of Health (NIH)
Virtualizing Living & Working Spaces:
A strategy to support Patients with Chronic Diseases

MARCH
16

Dr. Barbara Stilwell
Global Campaign
Executive Director, Nursing NOW
Launching Nursing NOW USA in South Florida

APRIL
24

Dr. Elizabeth Madigan
Chief Executive Officer
Sigma Theta Tau International (STTI)
Nursing NOW: The Global View

REGISTER TODAY AT: www.SONHS.miami.edu/NursingNowUSA

If you would like more information about how you can get involved with Nursing Now USA, please visit: www.nursingnow.org/USA/

Recruitment

- Letters send to South Florida hospital nursing leaders by Dean Munro asking for promising early career nominees.
- Letters send to PAHO/WHO collaborating partners across the hemisphere.

Novel
Optimistic
World-changing

Participants

Novel
Optimistic
World-changing

Novel
Optimistic
World-changing

Novel
Optimistic
World-changing

Novel
Optimistic
World-changing

The Nightingale Challenge offered “the possibility of bringing visibility to our work, of establishing communication with nurses globally, and of promoting the vocation of service in the next generation,”

Magaly Miranda Avila, founder and president of the National Federation of Chilean Nursing Association

Novel
Optimistic
World-changing

“The Nightingale Challenge is a huge opportunity to receive high-quality training from one of the most prestigious universities in the world. This challenge not only helps me to serve as a leader in my field and to strengthen nursing as a profession, but also to influence new generations of nurses who seek solutions to global health challenges.”

Yasna Palmeiro Silva, RN at Pontificia Universidad Catolica de Chile

Novel
Optimistic
World-changing

“I joined the challenge because it gives Latin American nurses the chance to contribute to important issues facing the profession. Nurse leaders are the nexus between the patient and the health care team. They need decision-making opportunities and to see themselves as a fundamental and important part of care processes .”

Juan Carlos Reyes Martinez, RN supervisor at El Salvador’s National Hospital of Sensuntepeque

Future Plans

- Qualtric Survey
  - Demographics
  - Program Evaluation
  - Leadership skills
- Leadership Online Course
- Future Leadership Webinar/Workshop

Novel
Optimistic
World-changing

Thank
you